Innovation in the Art of Teaching | Revolution in the Art of Learning

Join Us For An Elite SAT Experience
The HUN SCHOOL
Princeton, New Jersey

PEN VERBAL      October 12 - November 4      Tuesdays and Thursdays      6:30 - 8:30      $480

There is an art to mastering the Reading Comprehension section of the SAT. In fact, preparing well for this section of the exams will prepare you equally well to tackle the tough reading challenges that you will face in college. In the grammar portion of the class we will begin with the elements of proper grammar followed by a review of the "classic" writing process. Then, we will discuss how to generate ideas, vary sentence structure, and incorporate exciting vocabulary into essays that will meet and exceed the standards expected on the SAT.

PEN MATH      November 9 - December 2      Tuesdays and Thursdays      6:30 - 8:30      $360

You will learn the shortcuts to seemingly long, involved problems and develop time saving strategies for getting through the questions. A basic review of algebra and geometry along with the knowledge of the test-taking skills will enhance the ability of each student to work more efficiently during the test.

All PEN courses use the College Board SAT Study Guide
Books may be purchased from us on the first day of class: $24 (incl. tax)

ABOUT PEN

In 1995, Barbara Kalmus, a thirty-five year veteran in the field of education, co-founded an SAT preparation company and has been providing classes, tutoring, and college admissions programs in the West Windsor (NJ) and Princeton (NJ) area public and private schools since 1996. In addition, Barbara has been involved with Professional Development Programs throughout New Jersey, including several Abbott Districts.

In 2005, Barbara launched the Princeton Education Network (PEN), expanding classes, tutoring, college services and professional development to California. PEN's College Prep Academy, a multi-year approach to the college admissions process, debuted in 2006.

PEN has been hailed by its professional colleagues for its "no tricks" - "no gimmick" - "no guessing" approach to test preparation. At PEN we pride ourselves on maintaining academic integrity through all programs. The skills - some reinforced, others learned - are skills that will benefit students long after test day.

PEN also offers small group and private tutoring to students in the Princeton, NJ and Beverly Hills, CA area public and private schools.
